

CHALLENGE #1 PEN PAL STATIONARY

THE REWIND: COMMUNICATION ◀◀

For centuries, letters carried love, secrets, and revolutions -- handwritten, sealed, and entrusted to couriers. Then came electrical wires, radio towers, TCP/IP, and in 1992, a British engineer sent the first-ever SMS: "Merry Christmas." Suddenly conversation was instant, disposable, borderline addictive. This week, we'll slow it down, put ink to paper, and set off a chain of old-school writing.

CHALLENGE #1 PEN PAL STATIONARY

THE REWIND: COMMUNICATION ◀◀

For centuries, letters carried love, secrets, and revolutions -- handwritten, sealed, and entrusted to couriers. Then came electrical wires, radio towers, TCP/IP, and in 1992, a British engineer sent the first-ever SMS: "Merry Christmas." Suddenly conversation was instant, disposable, borderline addictive. This week, we'll slow it down, put ink to paper, and set off a chain of old-school writing.

